FAQ

Why our company can be trusted?

We have been using the method successfully for more than 30 years, also for ourselves. Our specialists directly participated in its development and continue working on further improvement. IHHT has been widely used in training of special contingents (people who work under extreme conditions, divers, astronauts, etc.). We adapted the method for the elderly, bringing its application to perfection. The method works reliably for everyone - from super-trained elite athletes - to disabled patients. The age of our grateful customers ranges from 2 to 90-plus years.

Why did you hardly hear anything about this method?

Despite the fact that the method exists since the late 1970s and is used for training athletes, as well as in many medical clinics, resorts and in military, it still remains almost unknown and inaccessible to those who can benefit most. The reason for this is largely an obsolete, unreliable, inconvenient equipment. In addition, in its orthodox, classical variant, the method has been used only for about 50% of its inherent possibilities. Recent polls revealed that up to 80% of professional athletes use hypoxic training in preparation for competitions. But almost none of them talk about it. Would you personally share the secrets of success with your rivals?

Our company offers the most reliable and convenient equipment, ideally suited for health and wellness industry as well as for sports facilities and home use. The whole family can immediately evaluate and share the results of their training with their supporting specialist via Internet.
